25. Transport by passenger train.—Where cylinders are transported by passenger train—

(1) the quantity carried by any one train shall not exceed 500 pounds.

(2) the vehicles containing cylinders shall be well ventilated and so far as possible water-tight, and (3) no such vehicle shall be taken into service until it is found to be safe.

26. Precautions by water.—Where cylinders are conveyed by water it shall be packed and stored in accordance with the regulations issued from time to time by the Board of Trade for regulating the carriage of dangerous goods and vessels as in ships.

27. Restrictions on delivery and disposal of cylinders.—(1) No person shall deliver any cylinder to any one other than the holder of a storage licence or its authorized agent or a Port Authority or railway administration.

(2) No person shall dispatch any cylinder by air or sea other than the holder of a storage licence.

(3) This rule shall not apply to the delivery or dispatch to any person of cylinders in quantities which are permitted by these rules to be stored without licence.

CHAPTER IV.

Storage of Cylinders.

28. Cylinders to be "unavailable" and "available" gas.—The cylinders shall be kept in any place, with or without a licence, unless it is "unavailable gas", that is, unless it contains no gas or gas which would render the gas evolved, either alone or in admixture with air, liable to ignite spontaneously.

29. Licence for storage.—(1) No person shall store any cylinder except under a licence granted under these rules.

(2) Provided that no licence shall be required for the storage of cylinders—

(a) in any quantity not exceeding five pounds if it is kept in prescribed receptacles each containing not more than one pound;

(b) in any quantity exceeding five and not exceeding twenty-five pounds if it is kept in prescribed receptacles and the following conditions are observed—

(i) the receptacles shall be stored in a dry and well ventilated place;

(ii) the receptacles shall be taken to prevent unauthorized persons from having access to the cylinders;

(iii) no one shall be given access to such storage in the District Authority; and

(iv) where a fixed generator is used as the pressure, distance, instructions as to the use and use of the generator shall be kept in immediately printed up in a place where they can conveniently be referred to by the generator attendant.

(3) No licence shall be required for the temporary storage of cylinders within port limits under such conditions as the Conservator of the Port may specify.

30. Storage buildings.—(1) Cylinders shall be stored—

(a) if in quantities aggregating not more than 100 pounds in a suitable unanchored building at least 10 feet away from any other premises; provided that gasometers not exceeding 250 pounds may be stored in a place adjacent to a ship at a distance not less than 10 feet from any other premises;

(b) if in quantities aggregating more than 100 pounds but not more than 2,500 pounds in a suitable unanchored building at least 40 feet away from any other premises;

(c) if in quantities aggregating more than 2,500 pounds in a suitable building at least 100 feet away from any other premises.

(2) Not more than fifty tons of cylinders shall be stored in any one building.

(3) Power to refuse delivery.—The Conservator of the Port may refuse to deliver to the Chief Inspector of the Port any gas or other material unless it is the opinion of the Chief Inspector that the delivery is not safe.

(4) The delivery of storage buildings.—Every building for the storage of cylinders shall be—

(a) constructed of non-inflammable material, with non-inflammable walls and roof, and, if built of brick, the roof shall be at least a foot above the ground level; and

(b) well ventilated and water-tight to the satisfaction of the licensing authority.

(5) Arrangements in storage buildings.—Cylinders shall be stored only on racks or levels standing on not more than one foot above the level of the floor of the building, and no cylinder of an inflammable or combustible nature shall be kept in the same building.

(6) Method of storage of cylinders.—(a) If any cylinder is damaged or if it is found to be leaking, it shall be placed in a safe place, and if it is found to be leaking, it shall be placed in a safe place, and if it is found to be leaking, it shall be placed in a safe place.

(b) The use of cylinders for storage shall not be allowed in the same building as the storage of cylinders, and no person shall be allowed to use any cylinder for storage in a building other than a storage building.

(7) Provisions for cylinders.—(1) Every holder of a licence for the storage of cylinders shall be bound to provide for the storage of cylinders in a building or place, and to provide for the storage of cylinders in a building or place, and to provide for the storage of cylinders in a building or place.

(2) No holder shall store more than one cylinder at a time for the purpose of delivering cylinders.

(3) The holder shall not store more than one cylinder at a time for the purpose of delivering cylinders, and no person shall be allowed to use any cylinder for storage in a building other than a storage building.

CHAPTER V.

Restrictions on Delivery of Gas.

31. Application of Chapter.—The rules in this Chapter shall be observed by every person having a licence for the storage of cylinders, and by every person who uses such cylinders for the delivery of cylinders.

(2) In this Chapter, "gas" means any gas, including all gases and vapours, and the delivery of gas shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of cylinders.

(3) Construction of apparatus.—(1) The apparatus shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(2) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(3) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(4) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(5) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(6) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(7) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

(8) The use of gas in water system, night house, etc., shall be subject to the same rules as the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas, and it shall be so constructed that it can be used for the delivery of gas.

30. Efficiency of apparatus—The apparatus shall have an efficiency of at least 90 per cent.

31. Temperature of apparatus—The temperature of any part of the apparatus, when working, shall not exceed 100° F.

32. Non-leakage—It is essential in placing these lights of any design that leakage of a solution or gas past or from parts of the apparatus is such that it shall be prevented.

33. Pressure—(1) The apparatus used shall not be used to work at a pressure exceeding 30 inches water column.

Provided that if it is shown to the satisfaction of the licensing authority that a higher pressure is necessary in any particular apparatus and that such higher pressure may be used without danger, the licensing authority may allow the use of higher pressure up to a maximum of 100 inches water column on the condition that the apparatus is fitted with suitable safety devices. A pressure operating at a higher pressure than 30 inches water column shall have clearly marked on it the water column at which it works.

(2) In the case of the apparatus, regard shall be had to the danger of stoppage of passage of the gas and a consequent increase of pressure.

34. Precautions against escape of gas—(1) All apparatus provisions shall be taken to prevent any escape of gas from the apparatus.

(2) Gas-tightness shall be fitted with flange all pipes connected up to a suitable point in the pipe run.

35. Removal of carbide—(1) The carbide shall be completely decomposed in the apparatus so that the four stages described therefore shall not be capable of generating more gas.

(2) The apparatus shall give no heavy or other heavy construction products from the decomposition of the carbide.

36. Drainage—(1) An open tank shall be provided to the open side for the reception of all residue from the carbide, and such residue shall remain for at least ten hours in that tank after being the tank of water in such tank.

(2) Provision shall be adopted for preventing any loss of gas from being discharged into the drains.

37. Apparatus—(1) No person shall have charge of the apparatus until he has been properly instructed in its management.

(2) A label or printed card giving fully detailed instructions to the operator as to the use of the apparatus and a certificate for the license to the effect that the attendant who shall be mentioned by name has been properly instructed as required by sub-rule (1), shall be exhibited as or in close proximity to the apparatus.

CHAPTER VI

Licenses

38. Application for license—A person wishing to obtain or to renew a license to store carbide under these rules shall submit an application in Form A to the authority empowered under rule 30 to grant such license.

39. Grant of license—(1) Licenses for storage may be granted by the licensing authorities on form B (Schedule I appended to these rules, or the Form, for the purpose, and on payment of the fee, specified therein).

(2) Fees for license granted or renewed under these rules shall accrue in full on the 31st day of December of the year for which the license is granted or renewed.

40. Particulars of license—Every license granted under these rules shall be held subject to the conditions mentioned as to it and shall contain all the particulars which are contained in the form prescribed for it by these rules.

41. Power of licensing authority to alter regulations—(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 40, the licensing authority may amend, alter or add to any of the conditions specified in the prescribed form of license.

(2) This power shall not be exercised by the District Authority without the prior concurrence of the Chief Inspector.

42. Assignment of license—(1) A license granted under these rules may be assigned by the authority granting such a license, provided that the assignments are not in conflict with any of these rules.

(2) A licensee who desires to have his license assigned shall submit it to the licensing authority with an application showing the nature of the assignment and the reasons for it.

(3) The fee for the assignment of a license shall be one rupee plus the amount of duty by which the fee that would have been payable if the license had originally been issued in the name of the assignee the fee paid for the original license.

43. Renewal of license—(1) A license may be renewed by the authority empowered to grant such a license.

(2) Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made not less than 30 days before the date at which the original license expires, and, if the application is so made, the licensee shall be held to be duly licensed until such date as the licensing authority orders the renewal of the license or until an intimation that the renewal of the license is refused has been communicated to the applicant.

(3) The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

44. Refusal of license—(1) A licensing authority refusing to grant, amend or renew a license, shall record his reasons for such refusal in writing.

(2) A copy of the order containing the reasons for such refusal shall be given to the applicant on payment of a fee of one rupee.

45. Classification of license—(1) Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be restricted by the authority granting such a license for any requirement of the law, or of the rules made thereunder, or of any condition contained in such license.

(2) The authority exercising a license shall record his reasons for or against so restricting the license.

(3) A copy of the order containing the reasons for the restriction of a license shall be given to the holder at the license on payment of a fee of one rupee.

46. Appeals—(1) Any person may appeal to the District Authority in Council from an order of the Chief Inspector refusing to grant, amend or renew a license or exercising a license.

(2) Any person may appeal to the licensing authority against an order of the District Authority refusing to grant, amend or renew a license or exercising a license.

(3) Every appeal shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a copy of the order against which the appeal is made.

(4) The appeal shall be received within 30 days after the order appealed against has been passed by the District Authority and within 10 days after the order has been passed by the Chief Inspector.

47. Transfer of license for storage—(1) The holder of a license for the storage of carbide may, at any time before the expiry of the license, apply for permission to transfer his license to another person.

(2) Such application shall be made to the licensing authority who shall, if he approves of the transfer, order upon the license, under his signature, an endorsement to the effect that the license has been transferred to the person named.

(3) A fee of one rupee shall be charged on such an application.

(4) The person to whom the license is so transferred shall enjoy the same powers, and be subject to the same obligations under the license as the original holder.

48. Provision as to death or disability of licensee—(1) If a licensee dies or becomes (temporarily or permanently) incapable of otherwise discharging the duties relating to the license of such licensee shall not be liable in any penalty or forfeiture under the Act or these rules for non-compliance with the provisions of the license by the licensee during such time as may reasonably be required to allow him to make an application for a new license in his own name for the unexpired portion of the license assigned.

(2) A fee of one rupee shall be obtained for a new license for the unexpired portion of an original license granted to any person applying for it under the rule.

49. Loss of license—Where a license granted under these rules is lost or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee.

50. Payment of fine—(1) Every application for the grant or renewal of a license shall be accompanied by the fee payable therefor. If the license is not granted or renewed, the fee shall be refunded.

(D) All fees chargeable under these rules in respect of licences granted by the District Authority shall be paid by means of stamped stamps or in cash.

(E) The payment of all other fees under these rules shall be made in cash or by cheque.

11. Power to accept from payment of fees.—The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, grant remissions of fees, or reduction of, any fee payable under these rules.

12. Production of licence on demand.—(1) Every person holding or acting under a licence granted under these rules shall produce it, or an authenticated copy of it, at the place to which the licence applies, when called upon to do so by any law officer.

(2) Copies of any licence may, for the purposes of this rule, be authenticated free of charge by the authority which granted the licence.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort St. George, March 27, 1937.

G.O. No. 319, L-1-G.

No. 415.—The term of office of the members of the panchayats in the Kottam revenue district ended on the 26th March 1937. The Government understand that it will not be possible to complete the elections to the first five of these panchayats before this date, and that all the newly elected members will therefore not have come up to office on the 26th March 1937. A special notice has been issued in an effort to the panchayats of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1919 (Madras Act XIV of 1919) as amended by the Madras Local Boards (Amendment) Act, 1925 (Madras Act XIII of 1925), the Government acting with a view to the speedy completion of the process, notified by clause (4) of section 7 of the Madras Local Boards (Amendment) Act, 1925 (Madras Act XIII of 1925), to direct that the term of office of the members of the said five panchayats shall be extended up to, and include, the 26th of the date mentioned against them in the schedule below.

As a result of the special provision the Government consider that the new board should be constituted on the 26th of March 1937 with the newly elected members. The election of its president can however take place after the extending date as above.

11. The number of residential scholarships is limited. Only those pupils in Form III and above who have passed the examination in the last year of the school are eligible for the residential scholarships. Residential scholarships are not usually available to boys studying in schools and colleges in the districts where there are schools, institutions or universities by the Labour Department and open to such pupils.

12. The number of non-residential scholarships for which classes are being very limited, their grant by the Commissioner is confined to pupils in classes I and II who do not get similar scholarships from the Education Department. Pupils seeking non-residential scholarships for religious education should therefore submit their applications to the Director of Public Instruction through the Commissioner of Education who will be considered by the Director of Public Instruction.

13. The rules of scholarships will be as shown below:-

Non-residential scholarships awarded to every applicant on payment of Rs. 100 in advance, payable in four instalments.

RUBBER.

Early in the month, due to speculative demand on Indian account, the market recorded a slight recovery with a corresponding rise in prices. Subsequently on a month of demand of demand from Bombay and Europe and account of fresh stocks, prices dropped slightly and ceased work.

CLOTHING INDUSTRY.

The silk yarn market underwent little change with regular arrivals and fair demand. Some of the varieties reported from Cochin declined in price owing to the restricted Japanese and Indian demand, but consequently on Arab and Indian demand the market for the same yarns advanced and closed firm. The export and domestic markets continued work with good demand and rates fell gradually from Rs. 10-12-0 and Rs. 12-15-0 respectively per ounce for 60S to in the last week of January to Rs. 9-10-0 and Rs. 11-14-0 in the week ending 25th February 1921.

COTTON SPINNING INDUSTRY.

In spite of the slackening of the cotton market during February sales of Indian piecegoods were slow and disappointing. Imports were restricted, but demand exposed a substantial increase of business during March. February is usually a dull season for piecegoods, but in spite of limited sales prices were maintained at about the levels ruling in January.

COTTON FIBRE AND YARN.

All markets, including Egyptian markets, ruled rather dull during the month of February with very little fresh business coming in from overseas sources. This may be attributed to the heavy business at the beginning of the year as dealers are still clearing stocks and taking up forward contracts. There was no change in price prices.

COTTON.

Timor cottons—the old crop only a small business was done and the quotations were of a low standard. In new crop there were several sales of good average quality at from Rs. 220 to Rs. 270 per 500 lb. (50) business was on a small scale. Timor was imported at these rates, but North Indian mills and Japan and China were out of the market.

Cambodia—the old crop about two to three thousand bales of various grades were sold to the Colonization mills at prices ranging from Rs. 220 to the lowest quality is Rs. 250 for the best rate. In new crop there were large lots sold at from Rs. 254 for good average Cambodia and Rs. 255 for better Cambodia. First arrivals of Siam Cambodia have come on to the market, but though the quality is said to be far below the average Timor quality it appears to be slightly better in clean and staple than last year's average Siam Cambodia. There is reported to have been a good demand by Cambodians and other South Indian mills, and by Japan for good average Timor, and by Bombay mills and China for average Siam.

Northern and western—There was a good demand for Marathi especially for the purpose of making with first cotton. First arrivals of Java cotton have come in and are said to be very satisfactory in quality although the staple is on the short side. Good prices are reported to have been paid for sample purposes.

SUGAR.

All the same features and two of the principal features in the Presidency appear to have continued during the month of February. The demand for imported sugar was limited and dealers transferred a portion of their stocks to Colombia. Prices of Indian sugar continued to decline owing to regular arrivals, heavy stock position, and heavy competition among stockholders in Indian mills on North Indian mills quotations showed no major loss. Bombay and speculators started buying during the last week when it was fairly generally understood that the Kanara duty would be increased and prices fixed up. An increase of 11 annas per cwt. was announced by the Finance Minister in his budget speech, and as dealers were uncertain whether or not they would be obtained to the extent of the increase in duty, the market closed unsettled. Indian sales of North Indian sugar declined from Rs. 25-0-0 to Rs. 20-0-0 in January to Rs. 18-0-0 to Rs. 22 per bag in February. Upcountry business continued to decline with regular arrivals and fair demand.

COTTON SPIN AND YARN.

Although there was a very fair demand in February prices became more and more overabundant by 31st per lb. Towards the end of the month, however, with an improved enquiry from London, prices recovered. Domestic trade continued to be satisfactory, the reason for the lower price being attributable to the fact that Commerce had that their requirements for the time being and in many cases would handle on more goods, whilst the heavy shipments in December and January had an effect on the London market. Imports in February showed an appreciable drop and this may be partly the reason for the improvement that was noticeable during the last two days of the month. Another factor which tended to make for a firmer market was that supplies of native bark were scarce.

There was a good enquiry from America for Bull bales and Bull cut. The Gun cut market was also firm.

Shipments during February were as follows:—

Gen. cargo.	Spice.	Tea cut.	Bull.	Bull cut.
